THESE TESTING EVENTS ARE OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs) primarily serve communities that are being hit especially hard by the COVID-19 pandemic. As such, these groups are far more likely to be infected and to die from COVID-19. These settings can play a critical role in providing access to testing for minority populations included students and faculty at these institutions.

In light of this, Sen. Linda Chesterfield, Rep. Jamie Scott and Rep. Denise Ennett requested testing at the four HBCUs in the state. Other partners included: Walgreens, which provided testing to college faculty, Community Health Centers of Arkansas, Arkansas Medical Dental and Pharmacy Association and Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc.

There were a total of 30 volunteers from fraternities and sororities that served as runners, clerks and greeters. Of these volunteers, six received special recognition for assisting at more than one location.

A total of 902 participants were tested at these events.
